Black cumin oil

The power of Egyptian seeds

Black seed oil is a versatile ingredient that is equally suitable for the skin and coat care of humans and animals. Its main ingredient, thymoquinone, is known for its powerful antioxidant and anti-inflammatory properties. When applied to the skin, it can help reduce inflammation and promote skin health.

People benefit from these properties by using black seed oil in skin care products to soothe and protect the skin. At the same time, black seed oil can also be used in the care of animal coats, as it can help to support skin health and coat beauty.

In this way, black cumin seed oil helps to meet the needs of humans and animals alike and maintain the natural beauty of the skin and coat.

Mare's milk

The power of mare's milk helps in many ways

Mare's milk is a remarkable ingredient that is prized for its multiple benefits in skincare. Rich in proteins, vitamins and minerals, mare's milk is able to naturally nourish and revitalize the skin.

The proteins it contains support skin regeneration and contribute to the formation of collagen, which promotes skin elasticity and firmness. Vitamins such as vitamin A and vitamin C are found in mare's milk and are known for their antioxidant properties, which protect the skin from free radical damage. Mare's milk therefore provides rich and holistic care that helps to make the skin look smoother, softer and healthier.

In addition, mare's milk provides gentle and natural care for your beloved four-legged friend's coat to keep it supple and shiny.

Emu oil

Emu oil: Traditional care, modern results.

Emu oil is a true miracle cure for skin care. Thanks to its high concentration of omega-3, omega-6 and omega-9 fatty acids, it helps to intensively hydrate and soothe the skin. These essential fatty acids strengthen the skin barrier and promote the retention of natural moisture.

In addition, emu oil has anti-inflammatory properties that help to soothe skin irritations and support skin health. This makes emu oil an ideal choice for daily skin care to keep it supple, healthy and radiant.

Australian Emu Oil mirrors your skin's natural lipids, allowing it to penetrate deeper than any other oil, soothing and regenerating even the deepest layers of your precious skin.
